

Peter Paints for Cancer

Peter Shurmer, aged 78 from Heathclose Ave, Dartford has been painting since the age of 7 years old when his grandmother gave him his first sketch book. Since then he hasn't stopped, Peter paints mainly from art books, memory and photographs he has taken.

Unfortunately Peter was diagnosed with cancer and has been a patient of the Pine Therapy Unit for quite a while. He has been so overwhelmed by the care and compassion shown on the unit that he wanted to give something back. So he came up with the idea that he wanted to sell some of his painting, with all of the profit going towards the unit. Peter has an array of many different paintings now displayed on the unit, some are of local scenes other from his holidays past and present. Peter has a real talent, and the paintings are striking. If you are at the hospital and want to view the paintings please pop along to the unit on Level 1.
